

Installation instructions for drying compartments

The drying compartments are all mounted with the same system. Each compartment has a male and a female connector mounted. The goal is to always connect the female plug of the upper compartment with the male plug of the lower compartment if there are several compartments. The fans are then automatically always on the opposite side. This ensures a "snake-shaped" air flow over the dry goods. First, however, the power supply must be plugged into the module and routed to the first compartment.

1. Plug in the included cable to the back of the module.

2. Plug in the top drying compartment.

3. Then plug in the other compartments.
